Where is your GIS organization located within your government enterprise?

- 55% GIS is part of the IT department
- 31% GIS is housed in another department
- 10% GIS is maintained by each department
- 4% GIS is a stand-alone department

What are the roadblocks and obstacles of GIS?

- Limited time and resources
- Training and experience
- Lack of understanding of how GIS can serve as a planning tool
- Lack of funding
- General avoidance of change or innovation at all levels

How can elected leaders benefit from GIS?

- Regionalization of GIS to include County and surrounding municipalities
- 311 and 911 calls for service mapping
- Promotes smart economic development and growth
- Show voting wards; makeup of wards
- Land use planning land and zoning
- Communicate information clearly and efficiently

What/who is the strongest proponent of GIS within the local government enterprise?

- 36% IT Director/CIO
- 31% Other
- 21% Chief GIS Officer
- 8% City or county manager
- 4% Elected leaders